Climate-sustainable energy cooperation for the future

How can Germany, the Netherlands, and the International Community work together better on energy security initiatives while maintaining sight of climate targets?

Discussion Leaders and participants from the EU, ministries, NGOs, universities, embassies, government agencies, and the private sector will convene for an interactive dialogue on challenges and paths forward. Representatives from more than 20 countries will address international collaboration on wind energy, innovation, carbon storage, hydrogen, energy infrastructure, energy costs, and green financing for energy.

Expert Discussion Leaders include

- H.E. Amb. Anthony Agotha, EU Special Envoy for Climate and Environment, European External Action Service (EEAS)
- Lijs Groenendaal, Director EVP Hydrogen at RWE Netherlands
- Chantal Schrijver, Head of the European Investment Bank Group Office in the Netherlands
- Jarid van de Steeg, Head of Corporate Affairs at Essent
- Aramis Zinke, Strategic Communications Officer at WindEurope

With special participation of:

- Maarten Abelman, Program Manager Delta Rhine Corridor, NL Ministry Climate & Green Growth
- Sissi Knispel de Acosta, Secretary General of European Climate Research Alliance (ECRA)
- Florian Postel, Advisor Climate Diplomacy Action Programme, Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ)
